-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of the Board Decision mailed on 7/30/09, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED.

A Technology Center (TC) Director has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

/DONALD T HAJEC/

Director, Technology Center 3700.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 71-82 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 5,941,896 to Kerr.

(Claims 71, 75 and 79) Kerr discloses a distal protection device, as seen in the illustrated figure below, comprising:

a guidewire 212;

a tube 202 having a lumen sized to receive the guidewire;

a filter basket 200 connected to the tube, the filter basket having a closed distal end and an open proximal end; and a spacing member 210 connected to the tube and positioned proximally of the proximal end of the filter basket, the spacing member being configured to maintain the proximal end of the filter basket in an opened configuration when the device is deployed within the vessel. Note that the spacing member 210 is an angioplasty balloon, which is adapted to expand. This expansion is capable of opening up the blood vessel, which will prevent the blood vessel from collapsing the proximal end of filter basket. The spacing member/balloon 210 also helps center the filter basket within the vessel by engaging the inner surface of the vessel, which also helps maintain the filter in the opened configuration and the guidewire away from the point of engagement.

It is also noted that Kerr also discloses an embodiment shown in Fig. 13 that adheres to commonly used orientation of proximal end/distal end in the art.

(Claims 72, 73, 76, 77, 80 and 81) The tube is fully capable of some degree of rotation along the guidewire since the guidewire is only connected to the tube through a side opening. The tube can also move axially along the guidewire when deploying the filter.

(Claims 74, 78 and 82) As seen in the figure above, the guidewire is fixed to the tube through the side opening.
